

DOZE REGRAS PARA QUEM SE INICIA NA ARTE DO COMBATE

Pelo Freifechter Andre Paurnfeyndt, em livre tradução por Diniz Cobreira.

Não sejam as doze regras obstáculo:
elas são na Arte guia e báculo.

A PRIMEIRA
A perna avante fica dobrada, sustém o corpo na outra esticada.

MAIS UMA
Luta alto, o corpo erguido:
a força nasce do passo comprido.

A TERCEIRA
Passos e compassos com ambos os pés juntos e longe, mais uma vez.

A QUARTA
Quem os talhos contrários aguarda na Arte nenhum prazer acha.

A QUINTA
Lembra bem como a luta é feita:
não há esquerda se vás de direita.

A SEXTA
Forte e fraco procura sempre.
Tem o Indes agora presente.

A SÉTIMA
Testa se o Binden é duro ou brando, Nachreißen é aqui o teu aliado.

A OITAVA
Avança e recua com pernas certas:
não seja Einlauffen nunca surpresa.

A NONA
Ataca fundo, perto do corpo;
tem os Zeckruhr sempre prontos.

A DÉCIMA
Feche distância se o Binden afirma:
assim não recebes de certo ferida.

A DÉCIMA PRIMEIRA O fio verdadeiro é por diante da mão, e pouca defesa há contra o irmão.

A DÉCIMA SEGUNDA
Não aprenderás, se te abate o medo, da Arte do Combate nenhum segredo.

TWELVE RULES FOR THE BEGINNING FENCER

Written by Andre Paurnfeyndt.

Translated by Christian Trosclair and laid out by Diniz Cabreira.

Do not let the twelve rules annoy you
From them great art may sprout from you

THE FIRST

Whichever foot stands forward is bowed.
The hind outstretched supports the body above

THE OTHER

Fence high with an outstretched body
Propel a powerful posture from the length

THE THIRD

Traverse and step with each other and set your feet against each other

THE FOURTH

Whoever steps after hews, they permit their art no joy

THE FIFTH

Note what the flat is.
Do not fence left if you are right.

THE SIXTH

Seek weak and strong.
The word 'Indes', ever note

THE SEVENTH

Probe soft or hard Following-after is your technique.

THE EIGHTH

Traverse before and after Running-in is not sudden to you

THE NINTH

Fence closely, by the body
Do not omit the irritating wound

THE TENTH

Step closely in the bind
Otherwise you will become wounded

THE ELEVENTH

In front of the hand is named the long edge.
Seldom suffer a parrying on the short

THE TWELFTH
If you frighten easily, Learn no fencing.

TWELVERVLES for the BEGINNING FENCER

Do not let the twelve rules annoy you
From them great art may sprout from you

Written by Andre Paurnfeyndt, translated by Christian Trosclair and laid out by Diniz Cabreira.

If you frighten easily, Learn no fencing.

XII

Whichever foot stands forward is bowed. The hind outstretched supports the body

I

Fence high with an outstretched body Propel a powerful posture from the length

II

Traverse and step with each other and set your feet against each other

III

When you are riding left turn Do not turn right when you are riding.

IV

Seek weak and irritating wounds that are near the hand.

V

When you are riding left turn Do not turn right when you are riding.

VI

Step closer to the hand and you will become wounded

XI

My front of the hand is named the long edge.
Seldom suffer a parrying on the short

IX

Fence closely by the body
Do not omit the irritating wound

VII

Closer before than after Running-in is not sudden to you

VI

Follow after yourself in the same order as you have been taught.

Step closer to the hand and you will become wounded

X

Step closer to the hand and you will become wounded

ZWÖLFF LEREN DEN ANGEHNDEN FECHTEREN

Geschrieben von Andre Paurñfeyndt.

Transkribiert von Alex Kiermayer und ausgelegt von Diniz Cabreira.

Zwölf Regeln laß dich nit verdriessen
Aus den mag dir große kunst entspriessen

DIE ERST
Welcher fuß vorn steht / sei bogen /
Der hinder gtrackt / ziert den leib oben.

DIE ANDER
Hoch gfochten / mit gtracktem leib /
Gwaltig Bossen auß der lenge treib.

DIE DRIT
Streich und tritt mit einander
Und setz dein fuß wider einander.

DIE VIRT
Wer trit nach hewen
Der darf sich kunft nit frewen.

DIE FUNFT
Merck was die flech ist /
Ficht nit linck / so du recht bist.

DIE SECHST
Such schwec und sterck /
In des das wort eben merck.

DIE SIEBENDT
Prüff weych odder hert /
Nachreysen sei dein gfert.

DIE ACHT
Streich vor und nach / Einlauffen sei dir nit gach..

DIE NEUNDT
Ficht nahend beim leib /
Die zeckrur nit vermeid.

DIE X
Tritt nahend in Bundt /
Anderst du würdest verwundet.

DIE XI
Vor der hadt / heÿt die lang Schneid /
Selten ein versatzung auff der kurtzen leid.

DIE XII
Erschrickstu gern / Keyn Fechten lern.